T110T1181 Wednesday	英文語文檢定-TOEFL(上)	John R. Jenkins	Elective	General Education	2	2
	TOEFL	Prerequisites	None
Course Description & Purpose	This course is an English language proficiency test course designed for students of English to familiarize themselves with the TOEFL and develop their test taking skills. The TOEFL test is a required admission test for international students enrolling in most American universities, but also is a proficiency test utilized by universities around the world to test the proficiency of English majors. The format of the three forms of the TOEFL including the Paper & Pencil test, the Computer-Based test (CBT), and the Internet-Based test (iBT) formats will be compared and contrasted. The course includes practice exercises from two sections of the iBT including the Listening and Reading sections. Sample tests will be administered periodically during the class. A format and test strategies and English proficiency test will also be administered. Class discussions will include topics such as strategies for preparing for the TOEFL, strategies for test day, and general test taking strategies for answering all types of questions on the TOEFL. The nature and types of test questions will be reviewed and discussed during the course.
