

Kai Nan University
Department of Applied Foreign Languages
Fall Semester: Academic Year 2004-05
Course No.	Course Title: English Writing II	Instructor:	Credits	Weekly Periods
351221321	Time: Sundays 10:10 – 12:00 Room No: A217	Lucy J. Harrison Lucky5@mail.knu.edu.tw Office #: ATO3	2	2 (3/4))
Textbook: Baker, Linda, et al. Interactions 2: Integrated Skills Edition . International Ed. McGraw-Hill, 2003
Course Description.	This intermediate level course covers the organizational methods and strategies used for writing academic English. Learners will progress from writing different styles of paragraphs to essays. Although not a GEPT test course, the rhetorical, writing, and grammar content is intended to meet the requirements for the General English Proficiency Test (GEPT).
Course Materials	Textbook; dictionary (print or electronic); writing paper A/4. On-line Resources: http://dictionary.cambridge.org/ http://owl.english.purdue.edu/ http://www.oup.com/elt/oald/
Grading Criteria	Attendance & Participation 40%; Assignments 40%; Mid-Term Exam 10%; Final Exam 10% Subject to change
Class Etiquette	Please, no cell phones or food. Please be on time. Students who are consistently late or absent for class will loose points. Late homework will not be graded.
Week 1	Chap 1	Introductions. Free writing exercises.
Weeks 2/3/4	Chap 1	Education and Student life 1. Rhetorical Focus: argument 2. Reading: Education: A Reflection of society p.9	Grammar focus: 1. The future tenses
Week4/5/6	Chap 2	Business and Money 1. Rhetorical focus: Letter to the editor 2. Reading: Banking on the Poor p. 35	Grammar focus: 1. Modal auxiliaries
Week 7		Exam Week
Week 8/9/10	Chap 3	Jobs and professions 1. Rhetorical Focus: autobiographical narration 2. Reading: Changing Career Trends p. 59	Grammar focus 1. Modal auxiliaries II
Week 11/12/13	Chap 4	Lifestyles Around the World 1. Rhetorical Focus: Autobiographical anecdote 2. Reading: Trendspotting p. 85	Grammar focus 1. The past perfect tense 2. Inseparable and separable phrasal verbs
Week 14/15/16	Chap 5	Global Connections 1. Writing focus: argument 2. Reading: Global Trade	Grammar focus: 1. The past perfect tense 2. Inseparable and separable phrasal verbs
Week 17	1-5	Review
Week 18		Final Exam

應英系 宋正邦
籌備處主任