	This course of study is intended for advanced students of English as a Foreign Language. Though complex to comprehend because of the multitude and varied linguistic topics, each 16 chapter is well-designed and well-orchestrated so as to focus the students' knowledge primarily on: grammar, conversation based on oneself and correct word pronunciation. Using 'real life examples' students learn grammar as well as pronunciation from a practical point of view first. Underlining and focusing on the importance of grammatical rules, be it on a swift pace and from a totally new perspective, is the textbook's main priority. Grammar then becomes a rule. In other words, first from practical active knowledge to the passive assimilated theoretical knowledge Each chapter is divided into: 1. a topic 2. Conversation 3. Grammar 4. Pronunciation 5. Writing/Reading and 6. Interchange Activity.
